1. The other evening I met [REDACTED] who is a friend of Brackley Shaw, former general counsel of the Air Force, now in private practice in Washington. Checking today I find that [REDACTED] has been a successful business man with contacts particularly in Cuba and South America, has held several important government jobs and is now presumably available. However, he has sufficient means of his own so that he is not seeking employment.

[REDACTED]

special assistant to the Secretary of the Air Force for Civilian Affairs.

3. I pass this information along for such action as you see fit. I have no personal interest in the matter.
